Mr. Spingarn didn't wait to finish his breakfast. He read that letter again and again, and then grabbed his hat and said.

'I'm going to Philadeiphia to bring Josie back. Cool-by.

He rushed from the house and was gone in an instant. Mrs. Spingarn was shortly afterwards seen by an Evrania Wonld reporter. Her great, coal-black eyes were filled with inspeakable gladness.

'Yes, we've heard from Josie. He's in Philadelphia. I haven't the letter, Mr. Spingarn took it with him. He started right away without breakfast for Philadelphia. I cannot remember what the letter said exactly. I only know Josie wrote that he was acting as a secretary to some merohant.

'He wanted his father to write to him, but Mr. Spingarn couldn't write, and off he posted. He saided us if he had passed in his examination at the College of the City of New York. He though the had studied hard enough."

The height of the rowing season is now at hand, and the number of crews on the Harlem resterday showed the largely increased membership of the various clubs. The decision of the Philadelphia Heyatta Committee to make their regatta an open one was a subject of much favorable comment. It assures a much larger and more successful regatta than could have been had by the invitation principle. The prospect now is that the best caramen of the country will meet at Philadelphia July 4. Several clubs who had not received invitations have now decided to enter crews.

An interesting race is expected from the meeting of the Hudson and the Bavenswood eight-cared barge crews in the Long Island regatta mext Saturday at Whitestone, L.I. The Crescents will probably also enter a crew in this contest.

Croker and was retained in office by Richard Croker and Chamberian Crain. He tendered his resignation on Saturday and to-day resumes the practice of law which he left to accept the office of Deputy Chamberiain is a protege of Mr. Croker. He is a member of the Tammany Hall General Committee from the Eighteenth Assembly District.

He held a cierkship in the Fire Department when Mr. Croker was Fire Commissioner, and when Mr. Croker became City Chamberiain was appointed Warrant Clerk in the Chamberlain's office. He has acted as a port of private secretary to the Tammany Hall leader.

Mr. Campbell is a genial gentleman, and will make an able assistant to City Chamberlain Crain.

Mr. Ladd's resignation was requested by Chamberlain Crain. It was rumored that the discovery that the Deputy Chamberlain had some interest in the improper investment of court moneys for which ex-Chamberlain William M. Ivins was recently censured in a report to the General Term of the Supreme Court, had promoted the request. When interrogated on this subject Chamberlain Crain said that his relations with Mr. Ladd were friendly and that his resignation was requested on the ground that the position of Peputy City Chamberlain is of a very confidential character and the Deputy onth to be the Chamberlain's personal selection.
